

Company Overview

Non-executive Directorships Consulting Ltd

Summary

Non-executive Directorships Consulting Ltd is the UK's leading dedicated non-executive career strategy consultancy. Based in central London, the firm works with leading corporates and individuals, including senior executives who wish to take a non executive director role alongside an executive role and FTSE and other groups who want to develop their most senior executives. It additionally works with senior individuals who wish to create, refresh or continue a portfolio career as a Non-Executive Director or Chair.

Non-executive Directorships Consulting was founded in 2016 to create a new career advisory service focused on non-executive development at the most senior level of the market. It continues to innovate within the industry, with a focused, insightful and strategic approach which keeps the client need front and centre at all times.

Service

The intensive service combines a significantly enhanced launch into the market and continuing market support, drawing on deep experience of both non-executive search and listed, private, family, government and private equity-backed boards and directors. This can make a great difference in a highly competitive environment.

Support is offered through a short series of linked sessions. They focus on creation of a professional board CV, including video CVs; non executive strategy, to complement an existing executive career or create a balanced and sustainable portfolio and board skillset; digital presence; marketing to launch / relaunch the individual effectively and comprehensively into the market; presentation, including career narrative (filmed sessions are an option for visual feedback); focused preparation for those wishing to take a Remuneration Chair role; networking analysis sessions, including a range of introductions; and bespoke analysis to identify appropriate upcoming NED roles in relevant businesses, or identify or extend a board network.

Client base

Our client base includes some of the most senior business leaders in the UK from FTSE 100, 250 and equivalent groups, including GSK, Diageo, RBS, BP, Mars, L'Oreal, Boots and the BBC; board members and senior partners from professional services firms, including PwC, KPMG, EY and Dentons; and those from a family business background or very senior government roles.

Clients are equally divided between men and women. The firm has worked with a significant number of BAME clients, and enjoys supporting and promoting this group.

Ecosystem

NEDC's ecosystem significantly enhances client outcomes in a range of ways, including development, networks, role identification, board intelligence, headhunter contacts, interview preparation and board performance. NEDC protects its independence and usually receives no financial benefit from its network but invests deeply in cultivating these partnerships to serve clients and optimise their success.

Contact: marianne@nonexecutivedirectorships.com

Website: www.nonexecutivedirectorships.com